

PACIFIC JOURNAL OF DENTISTRY

An Official Journal of
Pacific Academy of Higher Education & Research University

EDITORIAL

By definition Journalism is the production and distribution of reports on the interaction of events, facts, ideas that inform the society to at least some degree. Dentistry is a branch of Medicine that is involved in the study, diagnosis, prevention and treatment of diseases of oral cavity, most commonly dentition (teeth), oral mucosa and paraoral structures. The other terms found for study of dentistry is as ancient as the history of humanity.

There are evidences dating back to 7 – 9 thousand years back of teeth being drilled. Remains of Harappan periods and Indus valley civilization show us such evidences. Since then mankind has evolved to present state of development, where dentistry has evolved leaps and bounds. Now is the era of research and development and where evidence based practice of dentistry is the need of hour.

Journal of an association is the media that brings the professional researchers and academicians on a common platform to exchange their views and professional expertise. It is a peer reviewed dental journal with separate seeding for original research, case report and review articles. We are launching website of the journal and upgrading it to international level from this issue. We are trying our level best to bring it to even more higher level.

Pacific Journal of Dentistry (PJD) is an official journal of Pacific Academy of Higher Education & Research, Udaipur, which was previously published as JPAHER, with a good standing of more than 5 year. Journal has been designed keeping in mind the importance of all the dental specialties & journal places an emphasis on publishing high quality and novel research. Any suggestions or comments regarding improvement in journal are always welcome.
